

Finding Work

Montview's Immigration Task Force has begun helping a couple of migrant families assimilate in Denver. Here's one way you can help:

Miker Silva needs a job. He is a construction worker with experience in carpentry, drywall, tiling and flooring; he has work authorization. He and his wife, Monica Navarro, and their daughters, Shantal and Sheleska, moved into an apartment in southeast Denver. Can you help him either with jobs around your home or business or, better yet, make contacts within the construction industry? Monica can do housework or cooking. Text Miker at 720-909-0113 or Monica at 720-451-6776; they speak Spanish only but are very handy with Google Translate.

The Silvas can also use a few additional pieces of furniture -- a table and chairs and a single bed and mattress. If you can help, please contact Susie Pappas (susiepappas@hotmail.com/319-321-1978).
